1. Larry Houston, Tracy Barnes, [] and [] were in to brief me on []. It was interesting, and in general I think that things are going well. However, I emphasized to them my strong desire to ensure that their investments are as sound as they would be if they were investing for some academy, institution, or the old lady's home for incurables. I also emphasized that under no circumstances should this money be used to avoid obtaining proper approval through channels for projects.

2. Jack Mellin advised me that Joe Kraft is probably going to write a story about the Director which might appear in the Washington Post on 1 November. The Director has been advised.

5. At John Clarke's request I called [] and repeated to him the information Matt Baird had given to [] having to do with [] not leaving his notes on the conference room table as he was requested. [] is concerned about this and has taken it up with the President of the []. Apparently [] has many other reasons for misgivings about [] and probably will report their misgivings, as well as our incident, to []. I told [] that if John wanted to call me I would be glad to repeat the incident to him and suggested that he handle it this way rather than attempt to report to John just what happened.
